Section 21 – Linux Security

Answers

1. False
2. True
3. C
4. A,b,c, and d
5. A,b,c, and d
6. A
7. B
8. B

    Telnet is not secure as it passes user credentials to the server is clear text form
9. A
10. A,b, and d
11. A
12. B

    Among other things, nmap can be used to determine the OS name of the host, as well as – possible – the name and version of the service that is holding the open port
13. B